What's New In?

The Clock Elegance sidebar gadget displays the current time. You may specify the colors of the clock hands and the clock hands position. You may also specify the order of the clock hands. You may change the clock type, fonts and sizes. You may specify if it's the AM or PM clock. You may also specify the time zone. You may optionally choose to show the number of seconds before or after the current time. As long as you enable the "Tick seconds" or "Tick seconds as well" options, the number of seconds will be displayed between the current time and the current time + x seconds. This gadget was developed to help you see the time in an elegant way. Please note that you need to install a font and specify it in the Options, otherwise you will not see anything on your site. Since version 2.0 you can specify the font size in the Options. If you choose a font size of 16px, you will have a font size of 16px on your site. If you don't specify any font, the default font will be used, which is Merriweather (from the Microsoft fonts library). (images available:
